

Lots of Biscuits!

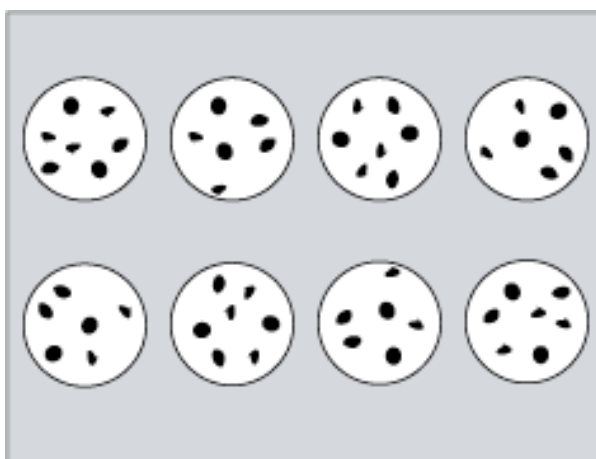

This is Anna and Danny's tray of biscuits.

How many biscuits did they make?

If they shared them between Anna and Danny, how many would they get each?

This is William, Jess, and Jack's tray of biscuits.

How many biscuits did the three of them make?

If they shared them between the three of them, how many would they get each and how many would be left over and have to be cut up?

They decided to share all the biscuits between all five of them.

How many did they get each?
