

Here are some sketches of curves. You can choose where to put the origin.

Which functions do you think it would be easier to express in cartesian (x,y) coordinates?

Which functions do you think would be easier to express in polar (r,θ) coordinates?

