

Multiply Multiples 2

In the equation below, each square represents a missing digit:

$$\square 00 \times \square = \square 00 \times \square$$

One possible solution is:

$$100 \times 2 = 200 \times 1$$

Can you work out some different ways to balance the equation?