

Here are some questions about Jola's birthday party.

How would you represent them using:

- words?
- pictures?
- numbers?
- objects?
- other ways?

Jola has 24 cupcakes to share equally between 3 plates for her birthday party.

How many cakes will go on each plate?

There are 8 children coming to the party (including Jola). They are all going to the cinema.

How many cars will they need to take them there? Each car can take 4 children and a driver.

Jola is going to give everyone some chocolate eggs to take home at the end of the party. They fit into egg boxes which hold 6 eggs each. Will 50 eggs be enough for each of the 8 party guests to have a box of eggs?
